

This stone structure is located in Nashville, Tennessee. The front section was built in 1830 and the rear half of the building was added in 1892.

